What's your part in the Great Work of our times?

Each period of history has a great work to do. The nobility of the lives of the people has to do with their identity with the great work of their time… Thomas Berry

Calling Fairfield's social entrepreneurs, philanthropists, NGO, civic and business leaders dedicated to building a sustainable world transition…

…to invest 2 ½ Hours. Recharge, refocus, & [re]imagine the strategic pathway to mission accomplishment for your organization, project or personal vision.

Leverage the 2020 Line of Sight. Learn a proven framework for mission-based organizational and fundraising success…combined with intuitive tools and processes for mining your inner wisdom. Break through blocks and crystallize your highest priority next steps & highest leverage path forward.

Work with 2020 Strategies' founder, Deborah Stern, a seasoned social change strategist, fundraising and organization consultant, and coach to mission leaders. http://www.linkedin.com/in/deborahstern.

Thursday, May 16, 2013
7-9:30 pm
Fairfield Public Library, Fairfield IA
$20 Suggested Contribution
RSVP - call or text: c-212-838-7678.
For more details: http://www.linkedin.com/company/2020-strategies-llc

2020 Strategies, LLC

One Mission. Sustainable World Transition

Each period of history has a great work to do. The nobility of the lives of the people has to do with their identity with the great work of their time…

Thomas Berry

Our Great Work. Your Mission.
[Re] Imagining Your Strategic Path Forward.

An Evening Workshop for Social Entrepreneurs, NGO, Philanthropic, Civic and Business Leaders

You've accepted the call to the Great Work of our times: building an environmentally sustainable, socially just, spiritually fulfilling world for all.

You're in the game, leading your distinct mission, with an organization, project, or personal vision.

Now, are you sure you're on the right path? Given the complexity of the world and our challenge, how can you even know? Might you be squandering precious time and resources? What tools are you missing? Are you overwhelmed by the choices?

We all know there's little room for mindless trial and error.

Thankfully, we now have transformational tools and approaches for making this vital journey. Can you benefit, in this moment, from investing 2.5 hours to recharge, refocus, and [re] imagine your mission, and the strategic pathway and organizational capacity required to accomplish it?

2020 Strategy Workshop Description

This workshop introduces a proven framework for mission-based organizational and fundraising success…combined with intuitive tools and processes for mining your inner wisdom to help…

- clarify your vision, mission, strategy, milestones and highest priority next steps…
- identify your distinct assets…
- locate and breakthrough current blocks…
- craft an initial strategic pathway to mission accomplishment....leveraging a 2020 Line of Sight….beginning with the next 3 to 90 days.

Whether you're a seasoned mission-traveler, or are new in your journey, this workshop offers you a structured moment to step out of the river of daily doings, and [re] choose where and how to jump back in!

Benefit from working with 2020 Strategies' founder, Deborah Stern, a seasoned social change strategist, fundraising and organization capacity-building consultant, and coach to mission leaders (see below), visiting Fairfield from New York City.

Follow-on group or individual coaching service will be made available as requested.

Thursday, May 16, 2013 -- 7-9:30 pm
Fairfield Public Library, Fairfield IA
$20 Contribution

Please RSVP. Or call for inquiries: 212-838-7678 or email info@2020strategies.net with subject line: Fairfield IA Workshop

2020 Strategies, LLC is a consulting and venture development firm dedicated to building a Sustainable World Transition. We build strategic organizational, network, and market capacity. Clients are NGO, philanthropic, business and public sector leaders. The firm leverages Ms. Stern's 20+ year track record developing innovative philanthropic and business initiatives; financing campaigns of $25K to $100M; securing gifts of $5K to $25M; and coaching new and experienced, influential leaders. She also brings to this work an MBA from Haas School of Business at UC Berkeley, specialized training as an intuition and energy-based coach, and a lifelong path of personal and spiritual development. For further details: http://www.linkedin.com/in/deborahstern ;

http://www.linkedin.com/company/2020-strategies-llc

Our vision for the Great Work:

By 2020, we humans achieve the tipping point, the threshold of change required for an environmentally and socially sustainable world….and we know it.

If you wish to [re]awaken this vision in you, [re]clarify your part in 'making it so,' and get pragmatic about building your organizational capacity for getting the job done…then please join us!

Deborah E. Stern
Founder & CEO
2020 Strategies, LLC
2020 Fund, a 501c3 philanthropic platform
New York, NY 10024
t. 212-838-7678 f. 212-496-0076
dstern@2020strategies.net
http://www.linkedin.com/in/deborahstern
http://www.2020strategies.net

One Mission. Sustainable World Transition.
Strategic Fundraising & Management Consulting l Philanthropic & Impact Investing Strategies | Collective Impact Campaigns | Social Ventures | Leader Coaching